1. Purpose

This policy sets the rules for acceptable use of Sogno Enterprise's internet, software, email, and cloud services.

2. Company Internet

Company internet access is provided for business use. Reasonable personal use (browsing, personal email) is permitted provided it does not interfere with work or consume disproportionate bandwidth.

3. Software

Only software approved by IT & Security may be installed on company devices for business purposes. Pirated or unlicensed software is strictly prohibited.

4. Email

Company email must not be used to sign up for personal, non-work-related services. Forwarding company email to a personal address is prohibited.

5. Cloud Services

Only company-approved cloud services (listed on the IT portal) may be used to store or process company or customer data. Uploading company data to unapproved personal cloud accounts (personal Google Drive, Dropbox, etc.) is prohibited.

6. Personal Use

Limited personal use of company systems is permitted (see Section 2) but must never involve illegal activity, harassment, or the storage of personal sensitive data on company infrastructure.

7. Prohibited Activities

- Accessing or distributing illegal, discriminatory, or harassing content.
- Attempting to bypass security controls, including on company-issued devices.
- Using company systems for outside commercial activity unrelated to Sogno Enterprise.
- Sharing login credentials with anyone, including colleagues.
